April 19, 2006

Halton - Halton Hills: On April 6, 2006 we contacted Mayor Bonnette, Regional Councillor Jane Fogal and Regional Councillor Clark Somerville and asked them;

We've been reading a lot of promotion in our local papers, one paid article and an ad were recently published in one newsprint edition alone on Brent Marshall's plan to bring Halton Region, the Halton Regional Police Services Department and the two School Boards under one roof. Chair Joyce Savoline keeps publishing claims of a twenty million dollars plus savings, yet, fails to substantiate that claim every time she mentions the project.

As our local representatives at the Region's table, please, would you mind providing our readers with your own views on this ambitious project? Please include how you feel this may or may not benefit our community, or, may even possibly affect the politics of our community in the future, as some have speculated in other regional newspapers.

We still haven't received a response from any of them which has left us wondering - have they been instructed not to comment on it.
